Passing Notes on Programs

Among the possessions of the late Professor Joseph H. Young are some unique old programs dating from 1875 to 1882 inclusive which were given at the Indiana State Normal School. These have been salvaged by his daughter Mrs. Walter H. Jackson of Indiana.

Professor Young held a chair in languages at the college during those years and his comments on the backs of the programs are almost as interesting as the programs themselves. On one he writes a note to Miss Jane E. Leonard: "Will you write me out a short notice of the Alumni Dinner, speakers, etc?" She replies with her well remembered sense of humor writing "Yes, it will afford me an opportunity to glorify the only lady speaker." She being that speaker.

These programs are quite lengthy and contain many prominent names in the Indiana community, some who have passed on and others whom we pass each day on the streets. The collection includes Public Exhibition of the State Normal School, held in chapel Friday evening, July 23rd 1875; Closing Exercises of Model School, 1876; A Commencement Concert by the pupils of the Music Department 1877; Closing Exercises of the Huyghenian and Erodolphian, Literary Societies 1877; Senior Class Day 1878; Fourth Annual Commencement 1879; Entertainment, benefit of the Reading Room, 1880. These are only a few of this priceless collection.

Young, D. M. Sensenig, T. J. Chapman, A. H. Berlin, Jennie Leonard and Grace Oviatt of the State Normal School and other educators will be present as instructors and lecturers.

Oldest Alumnus Is Dead

Dr. J. M. Berkey, 1877, of Berlin, former superintendent of Somerset County Schools, died December 9, 1949. He was 93.

Born in Quemahoning Township in 1856, Dr. Berkey had been a educator, lecturer and author. He was a son of William and Caroline (Mauer) Berkey. He began teaching in Somerset County at the age of 17 and lived on a farm until he was 18.

He was graduated from Indiana State

Normal School in 1877, after attending Millersville State Normal School. After teaching in Somerset and Westmoreland County schools and taking post-graduate studies, Dr. Berkey was promoted to the position of superintendent of Somerset County Schools in 1887.

A county association of school directors and a course of study adaptable to all county schools were set up during his administration. Early teachers were guided by his book, "A Teachers Manual and Guide Book." The first diplomas in Somerset County schools were awarded as the outcome of a grading system inaugurated by the educator, and the first high schools in the county were put up during his administration.

Dr. Berkey served as principal of Johnstown schools from 1896 until 1905 and headed the Oakland and East Liberty Schools as district principal for seven years.

The first person to hold the job of director of extension in Pittsburgh Schools, Dr. Berkey held the position from 1916 until 1926, the year he retired. He removed to Berlin in 1948.

Active in the University of Pittsburgh School of Education, Dr. Berkey was president of the Academy of Science and Art there for four years. He was chairman of the board for examining teachers' certificates in Pittsburgh.

While in Berlin he was superintendent of the Lutheran Sunday school and was the oldest member of the IOOF Lodge there.

Mrs. Taylor had been spending the winter months at Chimney Rock when death occurred.

F. Purrington of Indiana. Dr. Purrington was one of the most prominent physicians and citizens of this community during his lifetime. The Purrington residence was on Philadelphia Street and is now Dr. Jesse Campbell's Hospital.

Clara Friesell Dodds Says

We were graduated on July 4, 1895, as the largest class thus far in Indiana's history, seventy-three strong. On Saturday, October 31, 1908, a number of us returned to unveil the class memorial window in Leonard Hall. We have always had a number present for every five year reunion. June 22, 1920, was our twenty-fifth anniversary. Our fiftieth anniversary could not be held in 1945 on account of the war but we celebrated that in 1946. Our fifty-fifth anniversary occurred in 1950.

ISTC Had First Football Pro

The first game in the history of professional football was between Latrobe and Jeannette on August 31, 1895, and, according to the "Sports Encyclopedia," John K. Brallier, 1896, now a dentist at Latrobe, was the first paid pro. Prior to the Latrobe-Jeannette contest, the Latrobeans found themselves without the services of a quarterback, and, having heard of a star at Indiana Normal School, they offered the player, John K. Brallier, $10 and expenses to perform for them. He accepted the terms and thus became football's first pro. To the Indiana State Teachers College goes the distinction of molding the first pro in football history on its gridiron.

Ruth Work Resides in L. A.

Ruth A. Work, 1897, has been retired since 1946 and is living in Los Angeles. Prior to her retirement, she was a missionary in Egypt for 43 years and taught in a large boarding and day school for boys and girls in Assuit, Egypt.

All - I.S.T.C. Family Cited

At our Homecoming Luncheon on October 14, 1950, I happened to sit next to one of our older alumni in Recreation Hall. I knew from his appearance that he was a man who had led an active interesting life. So I introduced my husband and myself to him. He, in turn, introduced himself and his little circle to us—his wife, his married daughter, his small grand-daughter. This is what I learned about him during our luncheon conversation.

His name—George Hammer. He is a member of the Class of 1898 and, as far as he knew, the only one of his class present at the luncheon. In his class were 88 members, 25 of whom were men. About the time he was to graduate from Indiana, the Spanish American War broke out. He enlisted and was in camp in Texas at graduation time and was awarded his diploma "in absentia". Two brothers of his graduated from Indiana also. Will, 1897 - elementary, and Sam, 1900 - elementary. Now two granddaughters are students at Indiana: one, Louise Thomas of Holsopple, who is a home ec. junior, the other Mona Hammer of Boswell, who is an elementary freshman.

After his return from the Army, Mr. Hammer said that he taught school for fourteen years. First in Westmoreland County and then at Bolivar. He now resides on a small farm at Boswell, Pennsylvania.

In May, 1950, he and his wife celebrated their golden wedding anniversary. At their open house reception they were congratulated by about 100 relatives and friends.

The sterling qualities of this man and his wife shine forth from their happy faces. Do you not think that Mr. George Hammer and his all-Indiana family deserve a special write-up in our forth coming Alumni News Bulletin?" Items such as these are what all alumni are truly interested in. Tell Mr. Editor not to forget that Golden Wedding Anniversary!

Very sincerely,
Annabelle Livingston McKeraban
(Mrs. W. L. McKeraban) Class of 1912.

Rachel Megrau Is Dead

Mrs. Rachel Megrau Derrick, 1897, died suddenly at her home, 214 Worth St., Tarentum, Pa., during mid year 1950.

Dr. C. M. Smith Is Dead

Dr. Clark Monroe Smith, 1898, of Plumville died in the Indiana Memorial Hospital on February 6, 1950.

He had practiced medicine in Plumville for over forty-five years starting in April, 1904, immediately after he completed his internship at the former Grube Hospital in Punxsutawney.

Dr. Smith taught two sessions of summer school at Valier and Worthington. After that, he attended and graduated in May, 1903, at Ohio Medical College (now part of Ohio State). He always took an active part in affairs of his home community and the county, and during his lifetime he was a member of the town council and school board for several terms. During World War I, he was medical officer with the 167th Infantry of the Sunset (41st) Division and served in France.

Dr. Smith was always an ardent racing enthusiast, and owned many horses during his lifetime, which he entered at racing events over many of the circuits, and at the county fairs in this and other states.

Football Team of 1899

Many an older graduate who used to watch the Normal School games may recall some of the members of the I.S.N.S. gridiron of 1899.

As near as can be determined only two of the men are deceased. Sam Williams and Logan Long are known to be dead but many of the others are still alive and are living in the western Pennsylvania area today.

The outfit, clad in their moleskins, their leather jackets, their nose and shin guards, but helmetless, played their games on the old college field, which used to be situated between the gymnasium and Clark Hall. In 1899 Clark Hall was the boys dormitory and was where the players dressed for their games. The field was still used in recent years, up to the time that the new athletic field was completed below Grant Street in 1938.

The aggregate was coached by Dad Pythian, who played a half-back slot, for at that time a coach's duties not only called for management of the team but also for action on the greensward, which was generally very rough—causing many an older griddler to scoff at the newer generation as "sissies" at the sport.

It was nothing to see a player running down the field in those days, dragging others, who were trying to tackle him by his hair or by any other means they could. A man was never down until he either was pushed to the ground or gave up, so that opponents very seldom made a clean, hard tackle and very often tried to get the ball carrier in such a fashion that he could be dragged backward.

The 1899'ers played three games that year that can be remembered by some of the members. Kittanning played Indiana in one contest, and the Big Braves played both Latrobe and Greensburg teams then engaged in the first professional football in the country. The Greensburg game, as can be recalled, was very close.

Men on the Indiana team included Arthur Russell, Clarence McCreight, Charles Work, Mark Watson, Bill Bowman, Elmer Ellis, Sam Williams, Bracken, Babe "Kid" Williams, Howard Dick, Meade Marshall, Dad Phytian, Ed Anderson, Logan Long, Warren, and Keiser.

Warren and Keiser were Indians, and came to Indiana from Carlisle where they had gone to school. They had never played with Carlisle's fabulous Indians however.

Attorney Reese Dies

Attorney William P. Reese, 1882, former prominent lawyer in Johnstown, died in his home in Port Huron, Mich.

He was a member of the Pennsylvania House of Representatives about the turn of the century. He moved from Johnstown about 15 years ago.

Attorney Reese obtained his law education and was admitted to the bar after reading law as an apprentice in law offices of a Capt. Kuhne. At that time, attorneys were not required to attend college.

After graduating from Indiana Normal School, forerunner of the present State Teachers College in Indiana, he taught school in several local area buildings. Included were the Old Iron Street School and Minersville School.

Mabel Ansley Deceased

Mabel Ansley Murphy, 1890, passed away at Mount Vernon, N. Y., October 29, 1950.

Mrs. Murphy, then Mabel Ansley, graduated from Indiana State Teachers College, Indiana, in the class of 1890. She taught in the public schools of Apollo, Saltsburg and Duquesne, Pennsylvania.

In later years she majored in Journalism at Knox College, Galesburg, Ill., and Columbia University, New York. She became a noted writer of historical books and news paper reviews, also articles for magazine publication, and is found in "Who's Who In America."

Mary S. Vandling Dead

Mrs. Mary Scurman Vandling, 1898, died suddenly of a heart attack in June, 1950, while working with her flowers at her home in Lansdowne, Pennsylvania.

Blanche S. Daugherty Retires

Blanche St. Clair Daugherty, 1899, retired in October, 1950, as house director at Indiana State Teachers College. Husband Hart Daugherty has sold his interest in the Daugherty family lumber company in Indiana. Mr. and Mrs. Daugherty reside at their home on North Ninth Street.

(Gontner)

Replacement for Blanche Daugherty, house director on campus for the last 15 years is Marguerite Sutton, pictured above at her desk in her office. Mrs. Sutton comes from Bishop School, in California, where she held a similar position.

Burns Cause Death

One of Allegheny Valley's best known former teachers died April 15, 1950, in Allegheny Valley Hospital, less than six hours after she was severely burned in her home.

She was Miss Margaret Cowan, 75, of 1102 Brackenridge Avenue, Brackenridge, a school teacher for 43 years before she resigned in 1940.

A native of Brackenridge, Miss Cowan began teaching in Natrona at the age of 17. For five years she taught with a temporary certificate and then took time out to get her instructional degree at Indiana State Teachers College in 1901. Then she taught in Westmoreland County for two years and moved back to Brackenridge where she remained during the rest of her professional career.

She taught all the elementary grades and at one time was supervisor of the Prospect School. When she finally gave up teaching 10 years ago she was instructing in music and geography in the seventh and eighth grades in Fairmont School.

Arthur E. McCormick, 1929 — music, has received recognition as a music director in the public schools at Corpus Christi, Texas.

In a recent issue of the Texas Music Educator, Mr. McCormick's work is described as follows:

"Choral music is a vital segment of the education-through-music program that exists in the Corpus Christi Public Schools. This program also includes band, orchestra and general music. The main purpose is to create lovers of music, not technicians."

"The choral program starts in the elementary schools with general music and elementary school choruses. This program continues and expands through the junior high school and finally culminates in the senior high school A Cappella choir and the girls' choir."

"Signal success has been enjoyed by these two high school organizations. Two NBC coast-to-coast broadcasts have been presented by the A Cappella choir; the choir also had the honor of appearing as a guest group at the TMEA meeting in Galveston in February, 1949. Both the girls' choir and the A Cappella choir are in constant demand in and around Corpus Christi. Mr. A. E. McCormick directs both groups.

"Community appreciation of choral music has been greatly enhanced by the numerous appearances of the grade, Junior and Senior High School Choral groups throughout the city. The necessity for 'selling the choral program' to the student body has passed with the successful growth of these organizations."

Following his graduation from Indiana, Mr. McCormick taught for a number of years in schools in and about Pittsburgh. After service in the U. S. Armed Forces during World War II, Mr. McCormick, for reasons of health, resumed his education work in a new area.

Winner of the 1950 Johnstown Tribune-Penn State Teacher Fellowship was 28 year old William L. Dovenspike, 1945, music supervisor of Ferndale Borough schools.

Dr. Arthur M. Stull, Cambria County superintendent of schools and chairman of the fellowship committee, announced the selection of Mr. Dovenspike as the outstanding secondary instructor in the county.

The Johnstown Tribune, in cooperation with Penn State, presents an all-expense fellowship to an outstanding county teacher each year as a means of honoring all teachers and stressing the importance of good teaching.

Ballots were cast by teachers in every secondary school in the county. The teacher receiving the largest number of votes in each school was considered a nominee for fellowship. Dr. Stull and his committee made the final selection on the basis of an "Inventory of Good Teaching," supplied by Penn State School of Education.

Mr. Dovenspike has been music supervisor of Ferndale schools since 1945. He joined the faculty after graduation from State Teachers College, Indiana, with a bachelor of science degree in music education.

Keynoting the opening of Alumni Day activities at an executive council meeting of Alumni on May 26, 1950 in John Sutton Auditorium at the College in Indiana, Miss Burr made a plea for vision, imagination and effort on the part of friends of education everywhere in support of Pennsylvania's State Teachers Colleges.

An alumna of the Indiana State Teachers College and a noted attorney at law, Miss Burr, as chairman and founder of the All Pennsylvania College Alumni Association of Washington D. C., has been a vigorous promoter and sponsor of education projects. In the nation's capital she serves as deputy attorney general for the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania dealing with Federal-State legal matters.

Association Meeting Reviewed

The annual meeting of the General Alumni Association was held in the College Auditorium, May 27, 1950, at 10:30 A. M.

The meeting was called to order by the President, Mrs. Flossie Wagner Sanford, who welcomed the Alumni and their friends. She asked Mrs. Carrie Roberts Gemmell, Class of 1923, mother of Dorothy Mae Gemmell; and Mrs. Geraldine Lamberson Gephardt, Class of 1924, mother of Mary Lou Gephardt, to bring into the meeting the graduating class of 1950, and they retired at this time.

After the reading of the minutes, Mrs. Gemmell and Mrs. Gephardt presented the 1950 graduating class for membership in the Alumni Association—Mrs. Gemmell made the presentation remarks. Mrs. Sanford greeted the Class of 1950 and welcomed them into the Alumni Association. She pointed out that if graduates are located in a district where there is no alumni unit, the dues may be sent to the college and, in this way, it is possible to keep in touch with our Alma Mater at all times and not just on Alumni Day.

Mr. Leo Vogel, Class President, accepted membership in the Alumni Association for the 1950 class and expressed the pleasure of the class in becoming members of the Association.

4. In regards to Life Membership, a Deferred-payment Plan was approved with a minimum down payment of $5.00 and the balance of the Life Membership assessment to be paid within three years after the initial payment. Mrs. Elizabeth Benney Rodgers, proposed that faculty members who are not Alumni of Indiana be given the opportunity to become Life Members. This suggestion will be given further consideration at the October Executive Council Meeting.

Mrs. Carrie Belle Norton, Chairman of the Seventy-fifth Anniversary Committee, reported on the activities of the committee during the year, stressing that the key-word of their success was co-operation. Alumni Luncheon — 75th Year

Miss Jane M. Ackerman, former director of teacher training at Indiana for over thirty years, was guest speaker at the Alumni Luncheon at noon May 27 in the College Dining Room. Miss Ackerman, known to many graduates of the college, now resides at Coral Gables, Florida.

Reminiscing of the past, Miss Ackerman acclaimed the fine work of Indiana as an institution of higher learning for the training of teachers.

Edward Krisak, of Indiana, a graduate with the 75th Anniversary Class of 1950, spoke for the seniors at the Luncheon. The Class of 1950 had formally been inducted into the Alumni Association at a meeting in Fisher Auditorium prior to the luncheon.

Jane Ackerman's Address

Mrs. Sanford, Dr. Pratt, kind friends, old and new. This is a happy occasion, one which commemorates 75 years of honorable service to the cause of education, to the Commonwealth and to you scattered hither and yon—not only through Pennsylvania but throughout the nation, and even lands overseas. Who shall say how much the leaven has contributed to fine causes everywhere? I am glad to have a part in this wonderful celebration and to rejoice with you all in the influence and accomplishments of your Alma Mater.

I, too, am a part of Indiana's history—for 36 years of service here have given me a very close and loyal feeling to the college and to the town. Two other schools which I have served are celebrating this year—wonderful that in this world of change and chance there can be such permanence in the field of Education. The younger of the two—State Teachers College, East Stroudsburg, Pennsylvania, is recognizing its 50th anniversary. This was the school from which I came to Indiana and to which I owe much, in that it gave me most valuable experience in the field of teacher training and a very happy part in institutional life. East Stroudsburg is beautifully situated in a lovely country and I was so keenly interested in every phase of the work that I never realized the heavy load, the responsibility—but I did realize so largely the joy of working. It's wonderful to be young and enthusiastic. The older, Drew Seminary, Carmel, New York, to which I went as Dean, is a private school, a boarding school for girls on the college preparatory level, celebrated recently its 100th year of continued service filling a very definite place in the field of Education.

In anticipation of my impending visit to Indiana, I recently looked through a number of old catalogs and year books which I found on our shelves at home. The oldest one I have is a catalog of about 40 years ago. It combines many features of the year book and a catalog, pictures, detailed statements regarding courses of study, rules, faculty lists, student lists, alumni register—it's characteristic of many which follow.

The first catalog of this type was the result of Dr. Ament's efforts and it was designed to catch the eye of young people and convince them that teaching is an ideal field of service and Indiana the ideal place to prepare for it. It worked—no question about that, it worked in spite of some adverse criticism, for it came at a time when it was needed. The catalog was undoubtedly responsible in large measure for the immediate increase in enrollment; it served its need and time well.

Later came better catalogs, fine year books, excellent school newspaper. Do you remember the Instano—some of you do; the Oak, perhaps your present publication is called by that name; the Indiana Penn still carrying on, I think. I looked some of these over recently with interest, amusement, deep appreciation, tenderness, and all that goes with happy memories recalled after many years. Do you remember—some of you do—the Sophist, the first student newspaper. Some of the names appearing on its pages, the editor, T. B. Buchholz—you remember "Bookie"—reporters, Charles Margiotti, Gladstone Carmalt, Arthur Stull—I wonder if Arthur is in the room today, such a short jaunt from Johnstown over to Indiana—oh, there you are Arthur, I'll see you after this meeting.

The societies, the Erodolphian, the Huyghenian—you belonged some of you to one or the other—and you remember the friendly rivalry, sometimes it grew intense, so very intense that another adjective than friendly would better apply; the Leonard Literary Society which carried on under Miss Sprowls capable direction; the various athletic events, Indiana starred in these. The excitement of the Kiski game—never exceeded—you do remember that and some of our earlier outstanding coaches and athletes.

In one of the earliest, I noticed a statement regarding expenses—40 weeks, $225—those were the good old days.

I looked through the Oak of 1935 and it recalled to mind old friends in both faculty and student body. Dr. Foster was President then, Miss Stewart, Dean of Women, and there is a very excellent picture of my very special family, the training school staff; and I am so glad that I have this. Other faces that look out from its pages are those of friends not mere acquaintances, and the familiar names recall much that was very pleasant in our relationships. I'm sure the faces have changed only a little and when I meet you, I shall know you; don't think otherwise because I hesitate over your names—after all, I have many to remember.

I was interested in the objectives of the staff of the Penn—ah, it sounds so young and so earnest, it appeared in one of the issues somewhere along in the 30's. I will quote it—"Our purpose is to focus attention on worthy objectives; to encourage progressive thought, to increase interest in all the activities of the college; to create and develop loyalty, school spirit, and participation; to foster leadership, initiative and co-operation, and responsibility; to inform students, patrons, and friends what it stands for, what it is accomplishing; to promote the general welfare of the college; and give experience in practical journalism." A big order, but I'm sure there's been creditable effort in this, the right direction down through the years

I recall, with pleasure, the purchase of the property on which the College Lodge stands. Through Dr. Keith's interests and activities, this became the property of faculty and students and the scene of many good times from that time to this. I also recall the erection and acquisition of all buildings except John Sutton Hall, Clark Hall, and Wilson Hall. Those were the only buildings when I came to Indiana. John Sutton Hall has had many annexes since and the others, as you know, have been modified for other purposes. And I do remember so very well, the day that brought us word that Indiana's status had been changed from that of a Normal School to that of a State Teachers College with added dignity and increased opportunity for service, at least so we thought. Miss Stewart and I were in Europe that summer and Dr. Keith knowing how interested we would be, sent us the good news immediately and we rejoiced with the friends back home.

Indiana has been unusually fortunate in its leadership. Directing a fine representative student body, the faculty has been devoted and efficient. The Presidents for the most part, far-seeing and able. Always, too, in those earlier years there was Miss Leonard. Many of you of this present day may think of her as a shadowy and almost legendary figure, but to those of us who knew her well, she's a very real and vital personality—we know the early history of the school from her lips, the tale of 75 years ago. I think she's pretty close to us today and if our ears as well as our hearts could hear, I am sure she would speak in high praise of those whose vision, whose whole-heartedness of purpose, and whose personal sacrifice, led to the establishment of the school; and in high praise also of those who have carried on so well since those early days.

May I pay a brief tribute to the Presidents with whom I worked and whom I remember with great pleasure—Dr. Waller, kindly, courteous, a gracious gentleman, so strong in his Christian influence, so delightful in his personality, those of us who knew him remember him with respect and affection.

Dr. Ament, vigorous, independent, strong in his objectives for the material improvement of the school. As a result of his efforts came annexes to the old buildings, improvement of grounds, the revamping of interiors, the new and impressive catalog, better financial standing for the school. I remember with appreciation many things Dr. Ament did for Indiana.

Dr. Keith, brave, highly professional, a man of marked ability and vision. In his day much was done to raise the professional standing of the school and educational thought throughout the State. I shall never cease to be grateful for the support he gave us in the training department, he did so much for those of us who worked there. Better salaries came in his administration, his was the opportune time and he was always in the vanguard and the first line of educational advance. Do you realize how much Indiana and the Commonwealth owe to Dr. Keith?

Dr. Foster, do you remember when the students sang to him, "Oh Charlie is my Darling" and he loved it, and so did we. It was so in keeping with his fine spirit, his happy outlook, his devotion to his students and his faculty. Dr. Foster left an imprint on all who worked with him, and Indiana incorporated the qualities of friendliness, sympathy, and courage as never before. May they always remain component elements of the spirits of Indiana.

Dr. Uhler became President later after I left Indiana, but I knew him well and worked with him when he was head of the Education Department. His sterling qualities were apparent then and those of you who knew him as President of the College fully appreciated him; a fine man, honest in his convictions, sincerely recognizing his responsibility.

This would not be complete without a word of tribute to Dean Walsh who when leadership was needed, supplied that leadership most ably, as acting President. Those were difficult times but Dr. Walsh brought to this position, wisdom, steadiness, and a quiet firmness, all of which were much needed, and largely because of this we carried on to sunnier days.

A tribute to our Training School force of Supervisors and Teachers with whom I worked so intimately. Such a fine capable group, not excelled anywhere in professional standards, teaching skills, high ideals. They were artists in their work most of them, and some of them are still with you today, I am glad to say. And the training school children, the source of greatest interest to me always, to be protected, never exploited. A joy to watch their development and to feel that the foundation laid through our careful work was to an appreciable extent responsible for the qualities of fine citizenship which they demonstrated. We always had wonderful cooperation and much appreciation on the part of the fine intelligent parents. As I look back, I remember most gratefully those who entrusted their children to our care and training. We tried not to fail them.

The strength of a school can be measured largely by the loyalty of the alumni, at least so they tell us. If this is the case, you cannot minimize the strength of the college. I remember when the first alumni units were formed, and from the first their cooperation and faith in the college have been outstanding. I am sure, too, that it has never been a more active organization than now under Mrs. Sanford's capable leadership. Orchids to our Alumni.

To the current faculty and to your pleasant and efficient President, Dr. Pratt, congratulations on what you are accomplishing.

I remember so well those earlier days and I realize that there are many changes at Indiana these recent years. We would not have it otherwise. Hold on to that which is good, press forward to the mark of your high calling. If we are a bit nostalgic, forgive. It is only so because we have loved the College so well and there are naturally a few things we miss and there are dear familiar faces no longer with us; but we have memories and we can dream, can't we?

And now a word to the class of 1950—this is your big moment or will be soon. I'm sure this is a grand class—so was every one that preceded you. As you leave you are looking forward to happy experiences, but you'll look back sometimes, more often as the years go on—what will you remember? This has been your life so largely, normal, challenging, disappointing, successful. A measure of just about everything that goes into any life. What will you remember? The happier experiences I trust—let the others go—the good times, the high ideals of your profession, and a good citizenship, all of which the college has emphasized, I am sure. Forget some things, I pray you. It's just as important to forget as to remember. If you are discriminating in your memories, it will be possible for you to walk through life with a happy heart, and that makes all the difference. Congratulations, the best of luck to you always—Carry on Class of 1950.

Other Season Activities

An attractive promenade featured the afternoon ceremonies. Dance, songs, costumes symbolized history and tradition in Indiana's past.

Classes of 1880, 1890, 1895, 1900, 1910, 1915, 1920, 1925, 1930 and 1940 held special reunion meetings following the promenade.

For the remainder of the day's program there was tea in the dining room at 5:45 p.m., a reception to Alumni, seniors and guests in the President's Apartment, and traditional Alumni Dance and Bridge.

Dr. W. Sherman Skinner, pastor of the East Liberty Presbyterian Church, delivered the Baccalaureate address at 4:00 p.m., May 28, in John S. Fisher Auditorium, His subject was "One Last Chance,"

Sunday evening at 6:30 p.m. the Symphonic band directed by C. David McNaughton gave a concert in Fisher Auditorium. The Symphonic Band also played at both Baccalaureate and Commencement exercises.

Dr. Ethel J. Alpenfels, noted New York University sociologist, gave the commencement address at 10:30 a. m. Monday, May 29 in the Fisher Auditorium. Dr. Alpenfel's subject was "From Adam to Atom."

"While the United States is the greatest nation in the world today in practical technological advancement, our contribution to the world's progress will not be in the field of basic invention, but in that of human relations," Dr. Ethel J. Alpenfels asserted.

"In science the world is in the atomic age, but in human relations we cannot yet put two and two together," she said. "A basic cause of bad human relations is prejudice and the root is psychological. Unhappy people are prejudiced."

An interesting comment made by the commencement speaker was that in which she related the results of an experiment in the field of psychology. She said that 15 Communists, 15 Fascists and 15 Ku Klux Klan members were subjected to tests, and Dr. Alpenfels indicated that if names of classifications were removed it would be impossible to tell the one from the other. The same psychological impulses motivated all. All were basically unhappy.

75th Anniversary Commencement activities officially closed with the Commencement Dinner in the College Dining room at 12:30 p.m. Monday, May 29.

The registry of guests and members of reunion classes included hundreds of names of people from classes of 1880 to 1949 from twenty states.

President Sanford Writes

The Seventy-fifth Anniversary has come and gone - and what a wonderful time it was! I hope many of you were present at the Alumni Luncheon last May when the "Spirit of Indiana" overflowed. I think we who were there will never forget the joy of seeing Miss Ackerman—looking exactly as she did years ago—and hearing again the words of wisdom that fell from her lips. You who were not fortunate enough to be present will be glad to know that a wire recording was made of her talk, which, I doubt not, will be used by many Alumni groups throughout the years.

Not many people could have followed Miss Ackerman without breaking the mystic spell, but Agnes Sligh Turnbull, of whom Indiana is justly proud, was one of the few. Her references to the Past, personal incidents the most part, released a flood of Memory in the minds of many of us. We, too, had known some of these great leaders of whom she spoke.

It pleased me to think that the many people, of both high and low estate, who had helped to build our Indiana were lingering near—that, with us, they too, were rejoicing in the handiwork that seventy-five years had fashioned—the beautiful Indiana that welcomed us that day. And, with us, they too, were looking forward to the greater Indiana of tomorrow. It takes the thought and work and love of many people to make a great school. Indiana has been fortunate.

Not all the good things of that Alumni Day came from out the Past. It was heart warming to see the group of fine young people, who, henceforth, would call Indiana their Alma Mater, the Seniors who had, only that morning, been welcomed into our Alumni Association. We alumni were delighted with the young man who voiced the thoughts of today's youth, the representative of the Class of 1950. These young men and women and others like them through the years will go forth to hold high the banner of Indiana as they render service of the highest type—as Indiana graduates have been wont to do.

Never have we boasted a more beautiful school. In a material as well as educational way, our Alma Mater has kept abreast of the times. No alumnus can return to the campus without a feeling of just pride. We, the Alumni, have been responsible for some of the fine things that meet your eye. During the past year the Seventy-fifth Anniversary Fund and Life Membership fees have made possible several things that add to the enjoyment and comfort of the students now at Indiana. This year, three television sets will be the gift of the alumni to the student body.

For ourselves we are providing an Alumni Bulletin so long desired by many of us.

I am happy and proud to be the President of this wonderful Alumni organization. I am also very humble. I need your help. Twenty five years hence we will celebrate our centennial. Let's do our part to make the years ahead comparable to the years that lie behind. May we never waver in our love and loyalty to our Alma Mater.

Pittsburgh District Concert

In celebration of the 75th Anniversary of the founding of the college, the Pittsburgh District Units of the Indiana Alumni Association sponsored a concert in Schenley High School on May 2, 1950.

The program, arranged by Dr. Silvey, director of the Music Department, featured the College Choir, directed by Miss Mary Muldowney; the String Quartet, directed by Miss Pearl Reed; and organ selections by Kenneth Nordby.

The students traveled to Pittsburgh in chartered buses and were guests at dinner in the Bellefield Presbyterian Church prior to the concert.

Presidents of the Pittsburgh District Alumni Units comprised the Reception Committee and recent graduates of this district served as aides.

The Music Department graduates of the Pittsburgh District were very enthusiastic about the concert and urged many of their students to attend the performance.

The entire program was beautifully rendered. Music critics of the Pittsburgh newspapers and Pittsburghers, prominent in music circles, lavishly praised the work of the performers.

The proceeds, amounting to $643.79, were given to the 75th Anniversary Fund.

Through the 75th Anniversary Fund, money was set aside for a 75th Anniversary Memorial stop. Several others are needed. If you are interested, please contact Miss Esch or Mrs. Sanford.

Council of General Alumni Association Met October 14, 1950, at Homecoming

"A rose is a rose is a rose." Probably inspired by Gertrude Stein, contemporary American writer, and the Alpha Sigma Tau sorority flower, the Taus captured the Kiwanis club trophy with their prize-winning float in the homecoming parade.

The Executive Council of the General Alumni Association met in the Fisher Auditorium at 10:30 a.m., Saturday, October 14, 1950. The meeting was called to order by the President, Mrs. Flossie Wagner Sanford, who greeted the delegates and reminded them that even though the group was small, we could have a good meeting and that the May meeting was larger than usual because of the emphasis on the 75th Anniversary.

Minutes of the May 26, 1950, Executive Council meeting were read by the Secretary, Mr. George West, and were approved.

Reports of Financial Standing

Miss Mary L. Esch gave the Treasurer's report as follows:

Balance on hand in General Fund, May 27, 1950	$1,172.07
Receipts	557.46
	<hr/>
Gross Balance	$1,729.53
Expenses	70.42
Net Balance	$1,659.11

She stated that the balance in the 75th Anniversary Fund was $1,024.80, and the balance in the Life Membership Fund was $2,065.00, but that Mrs. Johnson would give this report.

Mrs. Sanford then asked for committee reports and Mrs. Johnson reported for the Project Committee. She gave the following report on the 75th Anniversary Fund:

Class Contributions	$3,631.50
Other Contributions	1,450.89

Total Contributions	$5,082.39
Expenses and gifts paid from Anniversary Fund	4,057.59

Balance	$1,024.80

Mrs. Johnson stated that the 75th Anniversary Fund report will appear in the December, 1950, Alumni Bulletin with the names of contributors.

Mrs. Johnson gave the following report on Life Memberships:

Receipts from 93 Life Mem- berships	$2,165.00
Expenses	100.00

Balance	$2,065.00

The list of life Members will be published in the December Bulletin.

Alumni Projects Approved

Mrs. Johnson also reported on the 9:30 meeting of the Alumni Projects Committee and stated that the committee wished to recommend to the Executive Council that the units accept as their project for the year 1950-51 the raising of funds for purchasing three television sets for the use of students at the college, the cost not to exceed $1500; this in addition to continuing the publication of the Alumni Bulletin on a bi-annual basis.

Mrs. Sanford remarked that the purchase of the television sets by the alumni may help the student body become alumni conscious.

It was properly moved and seconded that the Alumni Association purchase three television sets—one for the men, one for the women, and one for both men and women—with the cost not to exceed $1500. A purchasing committee will be appointed and it will be their responsibility to buy the correct type of television sets and have them placed in the proper locations.

Mrs. Rodgers was called on for the report of the Life Membership Committee. The committee had not met but she stated they would continue their work and have a report for the next Executive Council meeting.

Nominating Committee Named

The election of the Nominating Committee was the next item on the agenda. Mrs. Sanford stated that the constitution provides for a Nominating Committee to be elected at this meeting, this committee to consist of five members: two elected by the Alumni Association, one appointed by the President of the College, and two appointed by the President of the Alumni Association. The duty of this committee is to prepare a slate of officers to be presented for election at the General Alumni Association meeting in May, 1951. Dr. Pratt appointed Mrs. Mildred Shank, President of the Indiana Unit. Mrs. Harriet Doran, President of the Altoona Unit, and Mrs. Nelle Nippes of the Blairsville Unit were elected by the Council; and Mrs. Thalia Williams Long of the Indiana Unit, and Mrs. Elizabeth Benney Rodgers of Altoona were elected alternates. Mrs. Sanford appointed Miss Blanche Waugaman, Past-President of the Kiski Valley Unit and a member of the ISTC faculty, and Mrs. Dorothy Sieber Stewart of the McKeesport Unit.

Mrs. Sanford called our attention to the fact that graduates must be members of a unit in order to have any voice in the affairs of the Alumni Association; that the 93 Life Members may or may not have a voice in alumni matters. She felt that the Executive Council should look into the matter of planning a way whereby Life Members and others who pay dues may vote in elections, and important business of the organization, and appointed a committee to study the matter and present its recommendation in the form of a change in the constitution at the May Executive Council meeting. The committee appointed was Mrs. Anna Maurer, Parliamentarian for the General Alumni Association, chairman; Mrs. Gladys Overholt Bee; and Miss Margaret Lowman. It was suggested that the committee confer with Dr. Heiges.

Mrs. Sanford also stated that she hoped individuals might be able to contact graduates this year and ask them to become members of the Alumni Association. Many people live in areas where alumni units are not functioning, and some might wish to become members of the Association. Mrs. Sanford expressed the hope that some new units might be organized before Homecoming in 1951.

President Pratt Speaks

The President of the College, Dr. Willis E. Pratt, was then introduced. Dr. Pratt commented on the work of the Alumni Association under the leadership of Mrs. Sanford, and he thanked the members of the Association for the many fine things they have done for the college during the past year. Dr. Pratt remarked that the Life Membership campaign, to date, had been much more successful than he had expected it would be, and he thanked Mrs. Rodgers and her committee for their fine work on this alumni activity and commented on the capability of the leaders of the Alumni Association.

Dr. Pratt spoke briefly on the Alumni Bulletins. He stated that Mr. Nicholson has collected Alumni Bulletins from different parts of the country and hopes to find a way in which he can make a better bulletin, and that Mr. Nicholson will do the best possible job to provide a fine Alumni Bulletin.

Dr. Pratt continued his talk with news about the college and stated that much of the success of the institution depends on its alumni. He told us that there are plans for building both educationally and physically; that the world situation may handicap the administration in going ahead with its plans; that during the past summer, many improvements have been made, and the Commonwealth has been very generous in allocating funds for further improvements, and that the college officials will do their very best in building a better college under the conditions that prevail. Educationally, the college stands very well among the other Teacher Education Institutions in Pennsylvania; that there are a few more students this year than before, and that the alumni play a big part in having a large enrollment at the college.

Roll Call of Units

The results of the roll call to show the units represented follows:

Altoona	6	Kiski Valley	5
Beaver County	2	Johnstown	1
Blairsville	4	Pgh. - N. Boros	3
Indiana	11	Philadelphia	1
Jeannette	1	Pittsburgh	14

Mr. Elwood Sheeder, chairman of projects for the Indiana Unit, announced the benefit dance and card party on November 24 which, through Dr. Pratt's kindness, will be held at the college.

Mrs. Sanford stated that since the Musicale sponsored by the Pittsburgh Alumni Units in May was an outstanding success, other units may wish to try it. The college will cooperate with any unit undertaking this type of activity, and Mrs. McManus, who was chairman for the Pittsburgh Area Program, will be glad to pass along her plan and experience.

After reading the program for the day and expressing her wish that all returning alumni might have an enjoyable time in spite of the inclement weather. Mrs. Sanford asked for a motion of adjournment and the meeting was adjourned.

Respectfully submitted,
George West, Secretary

U. S. Army R.O.T.C. Unit Established Here

An Army Reserve Officer Training Corps has been established at the State Teachers College, Indiana, for the first time in the 76 year history of the institution.

The Indiana Unit designated as one for training Quartermaster Corps officers began its program with the opening of the fall term at the College in September.

Dr. Willis E. Pratt, president of the college, initiated action in 1948 to have an R.O.T.C. program established at Indiana State Teachers College.

From among over two hundred colleges and universities throughout the United States, Indiana State Teachers College was one of several selected for new R.O.T.C. programs at this time.

The course of studies and type of work given at Indiana answer many of the training needs for men in the Quartermaster corps which is the supply corps of the Army organization.

Lt. Colonel Hubert E. Thornber is the Army officer in charge of the Indiana Unit and is serving as head of the military science and tactics department. He has been at Indiana State Teachers College since June 1, 1950.

Five members have been added to his staff since that time.

M. Sgt. Walter Davis, M. Sgt. Nicholas Kolesar, Sgt. James O. Dudgeon, and Sgt. 1st Class Richard L. Lee are assistant instructors, and Captain James M. Skinner, is an instructor.

All six men are members of the regular Army and have had considerable overseas combat service. Sgt. Davis and Kolesar are native-Pennsylvanians.

Colonel Thornber's first professor of military subjects was General Omar Bradley, who is now Chief of Staff. Colonel Thornber began his long and distinguished career in the Pennsylvania National Guard at Harrisburg.

Headquarters for the R.O.T.C. unit have been established in an Indiana State Teachers College house on College Avenue off Grant Street.

Colonel Thornber and his aids are working with more than 250 men students. Enrolment in the program is voluntary and any male student who qualifies may receive this training.

Men students in all four college years may enroll; however since the program is a four year course, most of the first year's group are underclassmen.

In the light of the contemporary world situation, interest in R.O.T.C. training among college students has been noticeably high, I.S.T.C. college authorities state.

Under the Selective Service Act, male college students, eligible for R.O.T.C. training may be deferred from military service until after graduation, providing they agree to serve as officers for two years if called after they complete their college degrees.

In the inauguration of the R.O.T.C. program at Indiana, those in charge point out that previous service in the armed forces may be applied as R.O.T.C. credit and students so qualifying and voluntarily enrolling in the program will be placed in advanced status in accordance with their armed services training. Transfers from R.O.T.C. programs at other colleges will also be given full credit for their previous work.

Dean Assistantship Award from Syracuse University.

Miss Faust will be the fourth person in the 75 year history of the Indiana State Teachers College as an institution of higher education in western Pennsylvania to serve as dean of women at the College.

When the first faculty group was organized in May, 1875, Miss Jane E. Leonard was named preceptress. She held this position until 1920, the longest period of continuous service rendered by any individual in the history of the college.

On the retirement of Miss Leonard in 1920, she was succeeded by Miss Hope Stewart who had come to the college as a supervisory teacher in 1899.

On Miss Stewart's resignation in 1938, Miss Kimball, who for two years had been assistant to Miss Stewart, became dean of women.

Florence B. Kimball

Regarding Dean Kimball's retirement, Dr. Pratt stated, "During her 14 years at Indiana State Teachers College, Miss Kimball has been active in encouraging students to assume the responsibility of meeting the problems of college life.

"She has innovated systems of student government in dormitory living at Indiana that have met with wide approval among educators.

"Miss Kimball has been active in Alumni Association affairs of the college and has participated in the many constructive projects of that group."

A graduate of Hood College and of the Teachers College at Columbia, Miss Kimball has taught in the schools of the Commonwealth for thirty-seven years. She taught four years at high schools in Connellsville and Avalon and from 1917 to 1936 was dean of girls and associate principal at Connellsville High School.

She has taken additional college work at the University of Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania State College, and the University of Wisconsin.

During her educational career, Miss Kimball has traveled extensively in the United States, Europe, Central America, Canada and Mexico. During World War I, she served overseas doing war service for the Y.M.C.A.

Miss Kimball plans to retire from educational work. She has not indicated her plans for the future.

Former Faculty Now Retired

Miss Lillie B. Held, associate professor of music at Pennsylvania College for Women, retired in June, 1950.

A PCW faculty member since 1936, she received the status of emeritus associate professor of music after her retirement.

Miss Held, a Carnegie Tech graduate, taught in grade and high schools in Pittsburgh, supervised student teachers in music at Indiana State Teachers College, and taught two summer sessions in music at Pitt.

In 1906, she organized the first school orchestra in Pittsburgh, at Holmes Elementary School. Many of her former students are now prominent in music.

She is a member of the Pittsburgh Friends of the Music Library; the In-and-About Music Teachers' Ass'n., and the American Ass'n. of University Professors.

For her retirement, Miss Held plans to develop new ideas in music education in the PCW Laboratory School of Music.

Carrie Belle Is In Maine

Mrs. Carrie Belle Norton, formerly of the English faculty at the State Teachers College, Indiana, is now teaching in extension work for the University of Maine.

Mrs. Norton, who for twenty-four years until her retirement last spring was a valued member of the English staff at Indiana State Teachers College, resides in Kingfield, Maine where she and her husband, Parker L. Norton, have their family home.

In her part time work with the University of Maine, Mrs. Norton is conducting classes in "Teaching Language Arts in the Elementary School" at both Bridgton and Gary in Maine.

A graduate of Syracuse University and Teachers College, Columbia, Mrs. Norton had taught at the University of Pittsburgh, Columbia, and Shippensburg State Teachers College.

Mrs. Norton is a member of three honorary professional organizations, Phi Beta Kappa, Pi Lambda Theta, and Delta Kappa Gamma. She has long worked with the National Council of Teachers of English.

Spear J. Davis Is Dead

Spear J. Davis, superintendent of buildings and grounds at the State Teachers College, Indiana, for the last seven years, passed away at his home in Indiana, at 6 a.m. Friday, January 13, 1950.

Formerly a well known mining executive in the central-western Pennsylvania coal fields, the deceased had been one of the pioneers in the introduction of teaching first aid in the coal industry.

He is the father of Norman E. Davis, 1939, (died in the Pacific War Theater during World War II) and Jack Davis, 1950. His brother, John E. Davis, is director of teacher training and placement at the College.

Mary H. Muldowney, one of the top choral organizers and leaders in the country, has performed many distinguished musical feats. She possesses an unique understanding of musical values and the ability to evoke enthusiastic co-operation from every organization with which she has been associated.

Last spring she completed 15 years of notable service at Indiana State Teachers College where her activity as director of the Choir and Men's Glee Club brought distinction to the college.

Miss Muldowney was born in Minersville, Schuylkill County, Pa., was graduated from the Braun School of Music in Pottsville, Pa., and received a piano scholarship with Ernest Hutcheson. She studied at Cornell and earned a bachelor's and master's degree at New York University where she served as a visiting professor.

For many years Miss Muldowney was music supervisor in the Schuylkill County Consolidated Schools. Especially notable was her work with its Cass County Schools' Boy Choir comprising unchanged voices.

During World War II Miss Muldowney served as National Music Advisor for United Services Organizations in Continental United States.

She was visiting professor at University of Michigan where for several summers she directed the university choir.

Last spring as her last notable I.S.T.C. music enterprise Miss Muldowney conducted the Indiana State College Mixed Chorus of 100 in the Schenley High Concert that marked the College's 75th anniversary. The splendid balance of voices, the excellent tonal quality and contrasts, and the fine response of the singers to her direction further revealed Miss Muldowney as a musician and leader of substance. The concert was sponsored by the Alumni Units in the metropolitan Pittsburgh area.

Miss Muldowney became a faculty member of New York University in September as an assistant professor in the School of Education.

She is a member of the National Music Educators Association, Music Teachers National Association, Tri Sigma and Delta Kappa Gamma sororities.

College Friend, Erskine Ramsay Was Penna. Week Ambassador

One nationally famous personage with ISTC connections was among 25 natives of the state cited as ambassadors during Pennsylvania Week, October 16 to 22. He is Erskine Ramsay, industrialist and philanthropist.

He was named by the State Chamber of Commerce to receive an aluminum plaque and four-color scroll at ceremonies in his former home town during Pennsylvania Week.

Mr. Ramsay, 86-year-old Birmingham (Ala.) industrialist, was nominated by the Mt. Pleasant (Westmoreland County) Business and Professional Women's Club. He was born at Six Mile Ferry, near Pittsburgh, and was graduated from the commercial teachers course at St. Vincent College, Latrobe, in 1883. He held a number of executive positions with the H. C. Frick Coke Company before locating in the South. He has patented a number of inventions in use in the coal and coke industry.

Mr. Ramsay's philanthropies have benefited educational institutions particularly. Last year he made two contributions of $1,000 each to projects at State Teachers College, Indiana.

One of the gifts went to finish paying for a $25,000 Moller organ presented to the college by the alumni association. The other was spent in developing a memorial athletic field honoring members of the alumni who served in World War II. He is not an alumnus of the college. The gifts were prompted by the noted industrialists interest in education.

Mr. Ramsay is chairman of the board of Alabama By-Products Corp., manufacturer of chemicals from coal and coke, and the Alabama Mineral Land Company.

Former Critic Is Family Gal

Mr. and Mrs. John H. Schneider of Winnetka, Ill. visited the College during Homecoming weekend.
